GREEN MARIE sat in the city hall, then went her way. Immediately a woman after another sat in the hall, revealing the survival of fetishism in modern times. The savage, as we believed that inanimate objects have spiritual power and consciousness.

A child kicking the table that hurt her head and a woman sitting in the chair as the African witch doctors do, in their magic bag part of the ceremony, for cunning, a lion's hair, a bravery, the claw of a tiger, a serpent's fang, etc.

In her first message to Americans on American soil Queen Marie says: "I am just a woman of 50 who is full of joy and excited pleasure at the thought of seeing you."

MR. WILL ROGERS, who also knows something about advertising, welcomes the Romanian queen and praises her "for running 'Peaches and Apples' through the back of the neck."

The queen will go her way, however, and Albee and "Peaches"—the ones we know, or some others—will come back to the front page.

They are our natural and permanent intellectual diet.

ACKENZIE KING, Canadian premier, says truly that all talk of Canadian annexation by the United States is foolish. It is as foolish as to talk about Canada annexing this country. But Canada and the United States, ruling and owning these northern lands, should be closely united in business, as well as close friends.

Community singing is to be a feature of the program at the Auditorium according to present plans. This feature, which will be followed by an orchestra accompaniment, is expected to open and close the schedule of entertainment.

A band concert on the street will precede the meeting in the Auditorium.

Wyandot County Sheriff Enlists Aid in Search for Assaultants

Ralph Winstead, 23, of near Findlay, who is confined at the home of his father-in-law, Albert Tatchell, Upper Sandusky, suffering from a bullet wound received in an encounter with gunmen on the Upper Sandusky-Carey rd. Monday night, was reported improved today. His recovery is assured by attending physicians.

The landlady, Sheriff W. W. Shelding, of Wyandot County, has enlisted the cooperation of officials in surrounding counties and cities in searching out the two men who attacked Winstead. The assaultants riding in a Buick open car forced Winstead, driving a Ford coupe, from the road.

The landlady, who is a widow, during the struggle which followed, Winstead was shot. Without molesting his car or searching for his money, they drove away leaving him lying at the roadside.

A band concert on the street will precede the meeting in the Auditorium.

GETS $5,000 FINE FOR 5,000 CASES

Newport Ky., Oct. 20.—Samuel Friedman, formerly the owner of the Old '76 Distillery Co., here evidently thinks that five is his unlucky number.

His case had been in court for five years, and he just returned from a five-year stay in California to face the charge.

LARGE NUMBER ATTENDS STAR'S COOKING SCHOOL

Four-Day Course of Free Instruction Opens in Star Auditorium

NURSERY CARES FOR 51

Mrs. George O. Thurn, Kitchen Expert, Gives Practical Demonstrations and Suggestions

A program replete with interesting details and hints regarding household problems which confront the housewife every day opened the first day's session of the Star's free cooking school Tuesday afternoon in the Star Auditorium, with Mrs. George O. Thurn in charge. The school was well attended by adults and children, the latter ranging in age from six months to six years, were entertained.

The school promises to be one of the best ever held in the city.

Mrs. Thurn, whose charming personality makes her one of her audience, was introduced by Mrs. Lewis Chil, president of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, who also presented Mrs. Thurn's assistant, Mrs. Ida Miller, graduate of the Home Economics Department at Ohio State University. Mrs. Thurn will be heard in her series of interesting talks this afternoon and Thursday and Friday afternoons at 2 o'clock. The lectures will be preceded each day by a musical program.

Grates Budgets Mrs. Thurn designates her work not as a school but as a clearinghouse where the problems of everyday household routine is worked out. "The business of home-making is the greatest business in the world," she says, "because it has the largest amount of capital invested and the greatest number of workers." She urges the planning of all household affairs, and especially the budgeting of the young people to start out with a definite plan in the management of their affairs.

"Too many people think a budget is a bother," Mrs. Thurn said. "A budget is a plan to conserve our energy and our time to a purpose," she continued. "By following a plan we accomplish what we desire. A budget never limits your income may limit the desired thing in fact but a budget never will." Mrs. Thurn urged the budgeting of the household.

ANOTHER MAY BE HELD IN HALL-MILLS MURDER

Woman Is Expected To Be Taken into Custody Before Nightfall

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 20.—With the prosecution moving to exhumate the bodies of Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, victims in the strange crumbly free murder mystery of four years ago, another arrest in the case may be made today.

A woman who has been prominently mentioned in the investigation, is expected to be taken into custody before nightfall and charged with being an accessory to the slaying of Mrs. Mills, it was reported. This is in connection with the new grand jury investigation in the case.

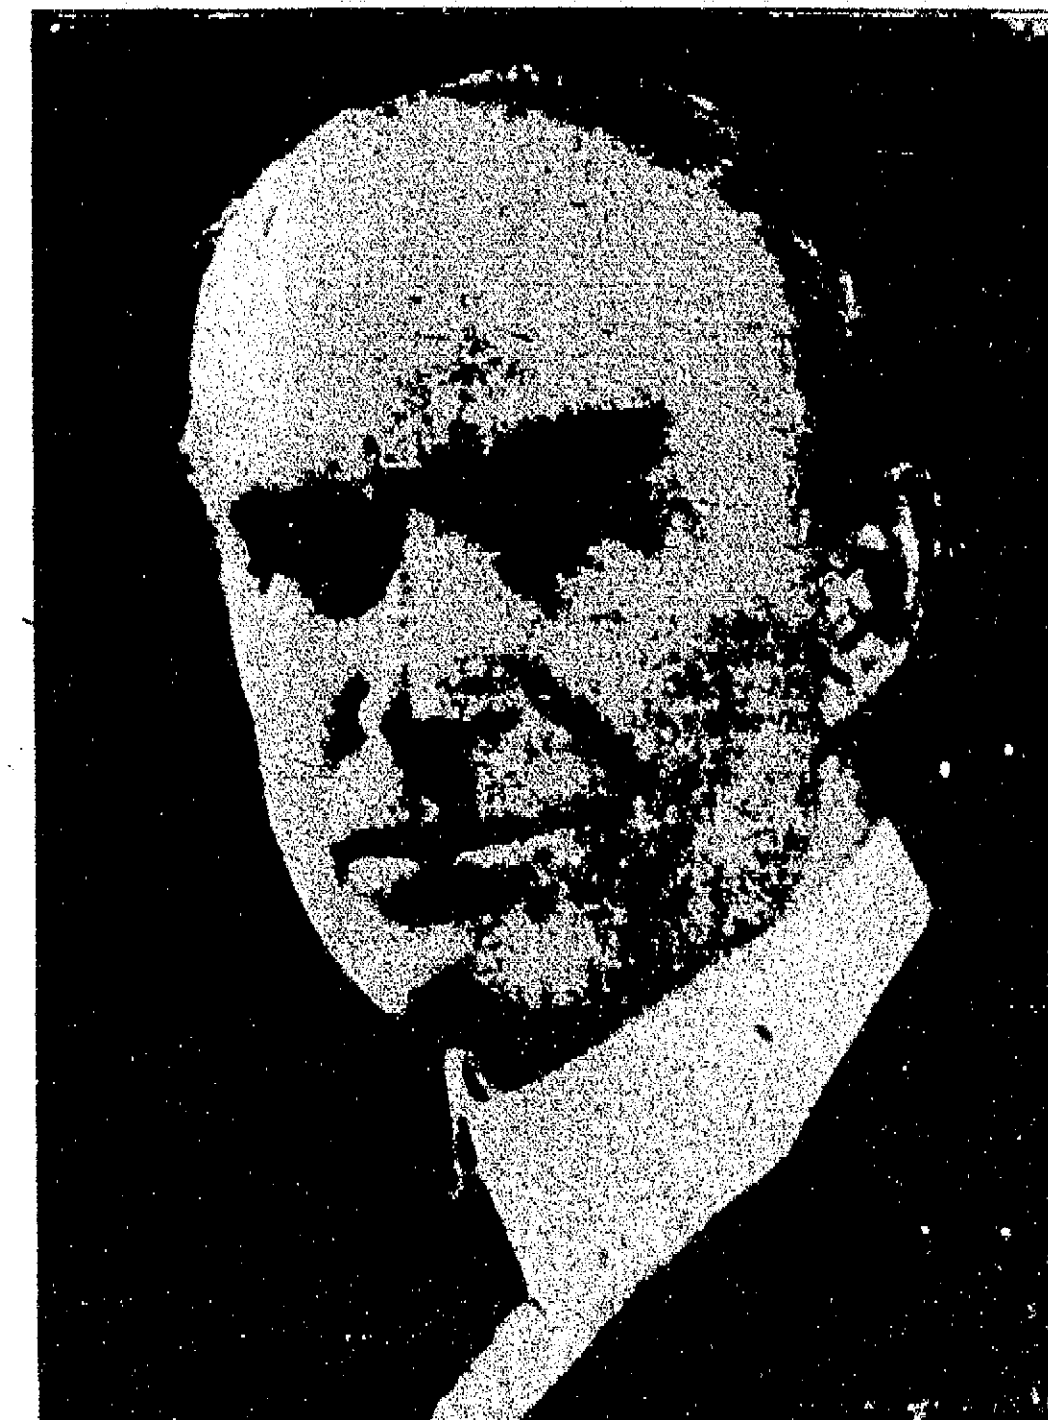

Special Prosecutor Simpson's action in notifying County Physician Sydnor that he intended to have the body of Mrs. Mills exhumed, was termed useless and "mere bodiliness" by defense attorneys today.

The body of Mrs. Mills lies in an unmarked grave in a cemetery at New Brunswick, N. J. Since the authorities have jurisdiction there, no difficulty is expected in obtaining court permission to exhumate her body. James Mills, husband of the slain choir singer, expressed surprise, but said he would not object.

MARION COUNTY FARMERS HAVE SURPLUS OF GRAIN

Over-Supply Attributed to Hog Cholera Epidemic Raging in County

With a fair crop harvested this season and an abundance of old corn in the cribs, Marion County farmers face the winter with an over-supply of the grain, Don R. Biggart, manager of the Marion National Mill Co., declared today.

The raging epidemic of hog cholera throughout the county is causing the surplus, it is said.

With the hogs, the principal corn consumers, sick and dying, with little feed in sight, Marion County farmers for the first time in many years are selling and planning to sell large amounts of their corn supply, according to Mr. Biggart.

Large Crops In addition to having a fair harvest this year, many farmers hold a large supply of corn in their cribs, the result of a big corn crop last year, and only a few hogs to consume it. Two years ago, only a few hogs to consume it. Two years ago, only a few hogs to consume it.

Despite the many reverses and late planting, together with unfavorable weather conditions at times, farmers of Marion County proclaim fair corn harvest, an average supply being received. Although this "surplus" are prevalent in many sections of the county, the crop is considered a success.

Many rains and no killing frost up to this date is responsible for the success of the harvest, Mr. Biggart said.

Despite the late planting, corn was forced to grow by the many rains. Now, several weeks late, corn harvesting is under way.

MAGILL DENIES $400,000 FUND READY FOR HIM

Independent Candidate in Illinois Senatorial Race Denounces Slush Charges

BLAMES LEAGUE OFFICIAL

Senator Reed Carries Inquiry Deeper into Illinois and Indiana

FEDERAL BUILDING, Chicago, Oct. 20.—An immediate investigation of slush fund charges made against the campaign of A. Scott Magill, independent senatorial nominee in the state of Washington, was ordered here this afternoon by Senator James A. Reed, chairman of the senate slush fund committee.

Reed announced he would instruct Senator McNary, republican of Oregon, to go to Seattle at once to conduct the hearings.

Federal Building, Chicago, Oct. 20.—A sweeping denial of charges that a $400,000 slush fund would be used in his behalf was made today by Hugh S. Magill, independent Republican nominee for the senate in the three cornered Illinois senatorial race before the "one-man" senatorial inquiry of Senator James A. Reed, democrat, of Missouri.

Magill denounced the charges as an "absolute falsehood" and swore that his campaign expenditures would be kept within the $25,000 limit imposed by the corrupt practices act.

The independent nominee openly charged George B. Safford, state superintendent of the Anti-Slavery League, had circulated this "falsehood" while "knowing it to be false."

Stating a long-undisputed popular fact, Senator Reed carried his one-man slush fund inquiry deeper into the Illinois senatorial campaign while preparing to turn a federal spotlight on the Indiana political middle.

The Indiana controversy, in which both major parties, the Ku Klux Klan and independent "Wall Street interests" have been involved was to climax in the center of the stage during the day and its ultimate developments may have tremendous effects on national politics. If the preliminary inquiry indicates that political corruption in the Hooper state has touched the senatorial campaigns here, it is as well to know that "the lid" of Indiana politics and no man can safely predict the outcome.

Most Defeating Basis In his role of "fighting Jim," the Missouri senator first will determine whether there is any sound basis for the charges and counter-charges that have been hurled back and forth for weeks between friends and foes of the Indiana Klan. If any fact can make out a prima facie case justifying federal intervention, it was apparent, Reed stood ready to go to the bottom of the charges.

On the other hand, if the charges are shown to be based on hearsay, Reed undoubtedly will turn his back on the Hooper state.

The Indiana situation nevertheless was fraught with grave political significance for both major parties. Two charges which Reed will investigate will be those of Clyde A. Wall, Republican state chairman of Indiana and Earl S. Tamm, Republican state chairman. Wall declared "Wall Street interests" had thrown a slush fund into the state in an effort to defeat Senator James

BARB BURNED TO DEATH, KENTON HOME DESTROYED

Blankets in Cradle Catch Fire from Oil Stove; Loss Estimated at $1,000

Kenton, O., Oct. 20.—David Everhart, eight-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Everhart, was burned to death here today when the blankets in his cradle caught fire from an oil stove.

The child had been left alone in the house, when the mother went to the home of a neighbor.

The Everhart residence, a two-room structure on Robinson way was a mass of flames when the fire was discovered. The blaze prohibited rescuers from saving the child. The fire department was summoned to the scene but their efforts to prevent the complete destruction of the house were of no avail. The property loss is estimated at $1,000.

LOSES LIFE TRYING TO GET $2,000 FROM FIRE

Moondsville, W. Va., Oct. 20.—Frank Foss was burned to death here today when he rushed into his burning home in the hope of salvaging $2,000 with which he had planned to start Italy with his six motherless children.

Firemen later recovered the charred body from the ruins. Friends will take care of the child.

MOTHER WHO KILLED SON IS HELD WITHOUT BOND

Columbus, Oct. 20.—Waiting preliminary examination when arraigned today on a murder charge growing out of the death of her nine-year-old son, Walter, Mrs. Catherine Cull, 43, was bound over to the grand jury without bond.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE COLLECTS $180,000

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The Republican National Committee has collected $180,000 to spend throughout the country in an effort to retain control of congress at the November elections, Ray O. West, the national secretary, told the Reed senate slush fund committee today.

"We are very disappointed that we have not been able to collect more," West observed.

When asked whether he had made any political contributions, West gave a long list of religious, political and educational institutions to which he "gave about 15 per cent of my income annually."

On the list were the Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia; the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa.; a Methodist church in Green Castle, Ind.; Wellesley College; Duquesne University; American University, and a dozen others.

MARIE LEAVES WASHINGTON TO EXPLORE NATION

Public Reception Is Planned for Roumanian Queen at Baltimore, Md.

TRAVELS AS ROYALTY

Will Get Brief Rest in New York Before Start of Tour

Washington, Oct. 20.—Thirty-nine hours as official guest of the American government behind her, Queen Marie of Roumania, left Washington this morning to explore the United States as a private, but exceedingly interested tourist.

The first stop outside of the national capital for this unusual visitor of royalty was to be Annapolis, Md., seat of the U. S. Naval Academy. From there, after a brief stop of inspection, her journey was scheduled to look in on Baltimore for luncheon and a public reception.

And from the latter point, she will entrain for New York, there to rest at least comparatively—until the start Thursday of her transatlantic tour.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Queen Marie, her children, Prince Nicholas and Princess Elena, and the royal entourage called away from the Roumanian legation for Annapolis. In the long line of automobiles rode her entire party, including ladies-in-waiting, American naval and military aides and personal friends accompanying. A detail of Maryland state police escorted the caravan.

Behind her, the queen left a cyclorama picture of official Washington, point of national historic interest, facts and figures of American history and a meeting and a dinner with President

DEBS IS BARELY ALIVE, DEATH MATTER OF HOURS

Veteran Socialist Leader Falls To Regain Consciousness; Heart Affliction Acute

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The stormy life of Eugene V. Debs was ebbing slowly but surely in a quiet suburban hospital today.

Physicians declared his passing was only a matter of hours.

"Barely alive," was the bulletin which came from the sick-room of the socialist leader at the Lindbergh Sanatorium shortly after 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Debs, the bulletin said, had not regained consciousness. His temperature at that time was 106.5 degrees and attending physicians declared the aged man could not possibly survive the day.

The famous socialist leader was stricken several days ago with a nervous breakdown. A heart affliction that has bothered him for years became acute. Monday, his condition became critical.

Following a consultation of physicians, among whom was Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the American Medical Association Journal, a bulletin said:

"Mr. Debs' condition is rapidly progressing to a fatal termination."

HAVANA IS HIT, BADLY DAMAGED BY HURRICANE

Power Plants Are Out of Operation; One Life Is Reported Lost

MAY HIT KEY WEST, FLA.

All Shipping in Southern Florida Warned: Say Winds Will Increase

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 20.—The wind and rain storm that hit Havana last night and raged steadily for hours, had abated shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The hurricane was said by weather officials to have passed out of Havana in a northeasterly direction.

Property damage was unofficially estimated at $3,000,000 this afternoon. Practically all small craft in the harbor has either been sunk or washed ashore. There is no electric light service and the streets are impassable to pedestrians and motor cars.

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 20.—The city of Havana suffered severely today from a hurricane which reached its full force about 9 o'clock this morning.

Street cars are not running, power plants are out of operation, automobiles are unable to operate and the beautiful Prado is a mass of blown down trees and debris.

One life is reported to have been lost and one house is reported to have been blown down.

All telephone and telegraph communications have been interrupted and it is difficult to learn the exact conditions prevailing.

Radio Station Down

The gulf is being lashed into a fury by the gale and it is reported that small craft in Havana harbor have suffered severely. The waves of the gulf are washing over the sea wall onto the Malecon, the seaside promenade.

At 9:30 o'clock, the hurricane had a velocity of 110 miles an hour.

As yet, it is impossible to estimate the extent of the property damage, but it is believed that it will be fairly heavy.

The storm yesterday swept the province of Pinar del Rio where it is reported to have caused considerable damage. At noon, there was a lull in the force of the wind, but the storm showed signs of increasing from the eastward. It appeared that Havana was the storm center.

BUSINESS LIFE IS DISRUPTED

New York, Oct. 20.—The hurricane which is sweeping Cuba has disrupted business and normal life, according to advices received here in private messages.

Numerous trees have been blown down and minor damage has been done, but no reports have come of any loss of life.

All of lower Havana, the old Spanish quarters where there are many business houses, is flooded by waters which have been driven over the sea wall by the hurricane now raging, according to advices received here from Key West.

A heavy downpour of rain has been falling in Havana since 7 o'clock last night.

SAY STORM WILL HIT KEY WEST

Washington, Oct. 20.—The tropical hurricane that is central over Cuba, is sweeping north-northwest and will reach Key West, Fla., this afternoon or early tonight, the Weather Bureau announced today.

All shipping in southern Florida has been cautioned.

The hurricane is expected to sweep over southern Florida and may reach the middle sections of the state. It is of great intensity.

The Weather Bureau this morning ordered hurricane warnings, hoisted from Boca Grande and Punta Gorda to West Palm, Fla., and northeast storm warnings north of Boca Grande to Tampa and north of West Palm Beach to Titusville.

Northern winds will increase and rough hurricane force late this afternoon or tonight over extreme southern Florida.

"warnings which the manifesto contains will fall on attentive ears." The Daily Chronicle declared the manifesto demonstrates the existence of a strong current of opinion in Europe for the abolition of the existing trade barriers.

The Morning Post, the only conservative paper commenting editorially on the manifesto, said the document, in view of the emphasis of its signatories, must command respectful attention and examination by the business world.

NO CHANGE IN U. S. TARIFF LAWS

New York, Oct. 20.—Removal of tariff and other restrictions on European trade, as advocated by international bankers, in a signed statement, made public in New York and European capitals, does not contemplate any change in American tariff laws, in the opinion of American bankers, expressed today.

New York international bankers point out that the idea is primarily European and that the American signatories were solicited by European bankers to lend moral force to their plans, rather than to commit the ...pores and glands. You have but to realize the importance of pure, rich blood in preserving the health, and that the source of all skin disorders is in the blood. Remove the cause, which is not in the skin itself, and therefore cannot be reached by a treatment that is strictly local, but is deep down in the blood supply.

HARDLY CREATES
RIPPLE IN CAPITAL

Washington, Oct. 20.—The widely heralded manifesto issued by the world's leading international bankers, demanding the elimination of tariff barriers as an aid to economic rehabilitation, created hardly a ripple in Washington today.

Europe is excited about it, but so far as the American government is concerned, there is but little interest.

President Coolidge feels, it was stated at the White House, that the manifesto is aimed principally at European tariff barriers, and if Europe wants to reform itself in this particular, that is Europe's business and none of America's. As for American tariff policy, there can and will be no change in that. The president believes that a good part of the present era of business prosperity can be attributed to the existing tariff law and no change can be made in that law without inviting a lower standard of living for American wage earners.

Efforts made in Europe to have it appear that the manifesto has been endorsed by officials of this government were dissipated today. In making public the manifesto, its sponsors intimated that it had been submitted to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in Europe this summer, and that Mr. Mellon, in turn, had rendered a favorable report on it to the president.

Members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Marion are planning to participate in a general campaign of financing planned for all churches of the denomination throughout the country during the fall and winter, the purpose being to raise a fund of $235,000 for support of the various Episcopalian activities. Announcement of plans for Ohio's part in the program was made today at Diocese headquarters in Cleveland.

An outstanding feature of the campaign will be the showing of a motion picture, "The Work of the Church," in each of the 114 Ohio parishes and missions and views from the national and foreign fields of the church.

George C. Benham, diocesan financial secretary in charge of the nation-wide program, has outlined a series of regional meetings to be held in various Ohio cities. The meeting in the Mansfield Region, which includes Marion, will take place in Mansfield on November 4. It is expected that several members of the Marion parish will attend.

MT. VERNON—AV OPENED TO TRAFFIC; REPAIRS END

Section Improved with Water-bound Macadam; Sawyer-Rd Work Completed

MT. Vernon—av opened to traffic today, after being closed several weeks for improvements.

The road was closed from the end of the pavement to Merchant-av during the construction of a water-bound macadam highway between those two points.

The Sawyer-rd, leading from White Oak farm to the Prospect-rd, was opened last night. County Cecil R. Levens announced today. The road is built of water-bound macadam.

Work progressing Road work in other sections of the county is progressing rapidly and contractors are making every effort to complete as many jobs as possible before colder weather sets in.

L. E. Klyner, contractor for the Marion-Marysville-rd, today poured the last of the concrete at the south end of the pile, bringing the new road to the detour signs at the lower section in Union County.

Within three weeks, the road will be thrown open to the traveling public, all detours being eliminated, and the distance to Marysville being shortened to 27 miles. It was announced today. Marion County's section of the highway was completed several weeks ago. Detour signs lead traffic through Richwood at present to avoid the Delaware and Union County section of concrete until everything is in readiness for the opening.

WHEELER ON WET HUNT Atlantic City, Oct. 20—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon league, is here trying to find out how wet the town is.

VOLUNTEER SAVES COWS Appleton, Wis., Oct. 20—Quick thinking on the part of Robert Eluke, and a long jackknife saved the lives of 13 cows on a nearby farm. $434,519,660 IN MINERALS MINED IN 1925

Slight Decrease in Gold Production, but Year Sees General Increase

San Francisco, Oct. 20—California produced $434,519,660 worth of minerals in 1925, an increase of $59,898,871 over the 1924 total, according to the compilation just completed by the statistical division of the State Mining Bureau, under direction of Lloyd L. Root, State Mineralogist.

The compilation lists fifty-five different mineral substances, exclusive of a segregation of the various stones grouped under gems. All of the fifty-eight counties of the state contributed to the list.

Gold production for the year showed a slight decrease, the statistics show, but in spite of this California continued to account for approximately 30 percent of the gold output of the United States.

Value of the gold yield was $13,065,830. A feature of the report was the considerable increase in value of the 1925 petroleum yield, 232,492,147 barrels of petroleum valued at $330,009,829 having been produced during the year, an increase of 3,568,078 barrels and $55,000,935 over 1924.

Material advances were also made by cement, miscellaneous stone, zinc lead, and quicksilver, while decreases were registered by brick and hollow building blocks and by salt.

Copper, silver, and pottery clay fairly held their own with only slight drops in total value. The silver yield was $3,044,410 fine ounces, valued at $2,110,705, and copper production was 46,068,400 pounds valued at $6,069,527.

Lead production increased from 4,684,387 pounds worth $308,751 in 1924 to 7,352,422 pounds worth $630,601 in 1925; zinc from 3,000,000 pounds and $108,000 to 11,546,002 pounds and $877,642; quicksilver from 7,048 flasks and $543,089 to 7,083 (Correct) and $21,831; and platinum from 273 fine ounces and $30,452 to 202 fine ounces and $30,037.

In the structural group cement advanced from 11,055,131 barrels in 1924, worth $28,225,860, to 13,206,830 barrels in 1925, worth $25,043,335, and granite from a valuation of $1,211,040 to $1,863,850.

Of the industrial group, as is usually the case, there were a number of fluctuations, mineral being the only one to show material increases. Of the salines, calcium chloride, potash and soda increased in value, with the borates, magnesium salts, and common salt decreasing.

The following minerals are listed in the compilation: Asbestos, bituminous rock, brates, brick and hollow building tile, cement, chromite, clay (pottery), coal, copper, colomite, feldspar, Fuller's earth, gems, gold, granite, gypsum, lead, lime, limestone, magnesite, magnesium salts, manganese ore, marble, mineral paint, mineral water, natural gas, oil, and travertine, petroleum, platinum, potash, potash and soda ash, pyrites, quicksilver, salt, sandstone, silica (sand and quartz), silver, soapstone and talc, soda, stone (miscellaneous), tungsten concentrates, and zinc.

Natural gas production in the state during the period under survey was 194,719,524 M. cu. ft. The value was $17,599,952.

Of the fifty-eight counties in the state Los Angeles County showed the greatest mineral production value—$193,180,000. This was because of the great oil fields in the Los Angeles area.

MIAMI PREPARED FOR HURRICANE

Miami, Fla., Oct. 20.—Miami, just recovered from the effects of the Sept. 18 hurricane, today was preparing to face again the wrath of the elements following receipt of advices from the Washington Weather Bureau that the storm now central over Western Cuba, probably would strike this section tonight.

Hurricane warnings were displayed at the postoffice and immediately newspaper offices and the Weather Bureau were besieged with telephone calls from anxious residents of this city seeking to learn the direction and intensity of the disturbance.

Some apprehension was apparent, following receipt of the news, but the city generally accepted the report and hurried about preparations to battle the gale.

Quarreled Since Wed- ding Day

"My stomach and liver trouble made a regular growth of me. I was sore at everyone, including my wife, and we quarreled every day since the wedding. She is a dear little girl and I know it was my fault. MAYER'S was recommended for my stomach trouble, and since taking it I have felt like a new man. My wife and I now get along beautifully." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. COMEDY NEWS WEEKLY

HERE'S MORE ABOUT REED'S PROBE STARTS ON PAGE 1

E. Watson and Arthur Robinson, Republican, because of the opposition to the World Court. From the Democratic camp, charges were made that Watson and Robinson had entered agreements with the Klan before the primary in order to get the Klan's support at the polls. Both Watson and Robinson attended the inquiry in response to subpoenas while a number of Indiana Klan leaders were also summoned.

On the side of the Illinois inquiry, Reed summoned Hugh S. Magill, independent Republican candidate, to learn more about his campaign for the senate. Julius Rosenwald, multi-millionaire backer of Magill, also was called for today's session.

Reed further planned to throw more light on the activities of wet and dry organizations in Illinois. He issued subpoenas for A. D. Plamondon, president, and E. Thayer, director of the Illinois Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, to question them on their campaign for George E. Brennan, the wet Democratic nominee.

Another subpoena went out for Dean Holgate, of Northwestern University, in connection with the charges of Rev. Robert S. O'Brien, Methodist Episcopal minister, that the Anti-Saloon League had falsified campaign literature. Dean Holgate was said to have attended a conference at which George B. Safford, state superintendent of the league, admitted his organization "had sent out lies."

With these developments, it was apparent the inquiry here probably will continue throughout the week.

PUBLISHER OBTAINS DATA AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Oct. 20.—Armed with a written statement purporting to show that a close relationship existed between Governor Ed Jackson, of Indiana, and D. C. Stephenson, one-time Klan chief and political power there, now serving life for murder, Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes, Ind., publisher, was enroute back to Indiana today to continue his battle against alleged political irregularities in the Hooser state.

Adams obtained the statement from Howard Bennett, once a member of the Indiana state police and formerly special investigator for Stephenson, and now a resident of Columbus.

The statement, Adams said, will be turned over to Senator James A. Reed, head of the campaign investigating committee, who yesterday announced that the Indiana situation would be probed.

Bennett related in the statement, according to Adams, that he chauffeured Jackson for six days all over Indiana in one of Stephenson's automobiles at Stephenson's orders when Jackson was campaigning for governor in 1924, and that he paid all expenses with Stephenson's money.

"I paid Jackson's expenses with Stephenson's money and spent about $1,000," Bennett declared in the statement, Adams said.

wisely, that he might know what was in them.

HIS ancestors, living 10,000 years before Washington, probably practiced cannibalism occasionally. Had he lived then he would have done as they did. Washington did not quite fulfill the ideals of the good 1925 Y. W. C. A., but the ladies should rejoice that he established a nation in which the Y. W. C. A. could become a useful reality.

FLYING machines have been used in France to plant trees on denuded mountain ranges, the flier scattering seed as he flies.

Now fliers will scatter wild rice seed over the marshes in Manitoba, that wild geese and ducks, not men, may eat the crop. It will be a new kind of agriculture when the farmer "sows his seed" as he sits and takes his ease in his airplane.

NEW YORK, the country's biggest city, gives some interesting death facts for 1925.

Nine hundred and ninety-four killed themselves. Five thousand five hundred and eighty-one died violent deaths. Gunmen, bootleggers, etc., contributed to the totals. Automobiles killed a good many—but foolshakes is the real killer—foolish eating, drinking, worrying, rushing. Millions kill themselves that do not know it.

and Mrs. Coolidge. Her stay in the capital had been limited, but the State Department had conducted her over a sight-seeing route such as would have struck joy in the heart of any native tourist.

With the departure from Washington, Queen Marie lost her status as a guest of the government, and became a tourist, enjoying extraordinary privileges. Her tour from now on is in the hands of the railroads, the reception committees of the cities she will visit, and the watchfulness of the secret service agents of the State Department.

Marie, however, will tour as a queen. Asked about the future of her journey through America, she replied: "I shall travel as a queen. I am a queen and I can picture myself as nothing else."

The royal party faces a busy day before entraining for New York. A review of the midshipmen and other naval displays have been arranged at Annapolis. At Baltimore, following a formal luncheon, the queen will have an opportunity for the first time to meet a realistic cross-section of American democracy. She has agreed to the holding of a public reception at the World War Memorial and after the favored guests have passed through the receiving line, she will receive such of those from the streets and the ordinary walks of life as desire to come.

Marie left behind her still another evidence of her enterprising nature. When the President and Mrs. Coolidge arrived at the legation last night to return the call of courtesy, they found, to their surprise, a group of Klansmen and their portrait photographs. The concern which made the covered potatoes and exclusive privileges. All others were barred.

QUEEN REVIEWS MIDSHIPMEN

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 20.—In a driving rain, Queen Marie of Romania today reviewed the midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy.

The queen and her party, moving in a motorcade, were met by Rear Admiral R. F. Nulton and his staff of the academy, stood under a canopy as the faultless rows of blue-clad midshipmen passed by in the rain and mud.

Despite the weather, the queen was impressed by the snappy maneuvers. Turning to Nulton, she said: "It is perfectly understandable to have such healthy weather after such a gloomy day yesterday."

Following the review, the queen retired to the commandant's home and received the officers and professors of the academy.

A short time later she left by motor for Baltimore where she was to lunch and hold a public reception before taking a train for New York. The queen's motorcade from Annapolis to Washington was made in the rain. The day was dark and the roads were slippery, but the motor caravan made fast speed. The way was cleared by Maryland state police.

Arriving at the academy, the queen was escorted by Admiral Nulton to the reviewing ground. The midshipmen, in uniform, were drawn up in attention. Orders were hastily shouted and the midshipmen passed by the reviewing stand in company formation. The queen smilingly acknowledged their salutes.

most modern kitchen equipment and labor-saving devices.

Question Box Feature
A most interesting part of the program is the question box in which Mrs. Thurn answers the questions asked by her audience, and numerous valuable hints and suggestions are brought out at this time.

Yesterday's menu included a meal of: hot pot pie, dumplings, cherry, salad, cream pudding and date muffs. Mrs. Thurn also gave her own recipe for coffee and a delectable dish of sweet potatoes and apples. A table set for an informal family breakfast was an attractive feature of the equipment yesterday. The menus are:

Veal Pot Pie
2 1/2 pounds veal from shoulder. Cut in squares for serving. Brown well on all sides, season well, cover with about two cups hot water and let it cook about two hours.

Dumplings
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon shortening
1 cupful sweet milk
1 teaspoonful salt

Short dough, baking powder and salt. Mix shortening with finger tips very fine. Add milk. Drop by spoonful on top of meat. Cover and boil 15 minutes.

Corn Pudding
1 can corn
2 eggs
2 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cupful melted shortening
1/2 cupful sugar
1/2 cupful flour
1/2 cupful milk
Salt and pepper to taste.

Mix all together, folding in the beaten egg whites last. Put in a buttered baking dish and bake in a 350 degree oven until set like custard. (About 45 minutes.)

Cherry Salad
1 can Royal Anne cherries
Wash cherries
2 tablespoons gelatin
15 cupful cold water
1/2 cupful mild vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Cherry juice with enough water to make two cups
1/2 cupful sugar
1 teaspoonful salt

Put cherries and hot nut meats in place of pits. Dissolve gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Add hot juice and water, vinegar, lemon juice, sugar and salt. When mixture begins to thicken, add cherries. Turn into a mold, first dipped in cold water. Use either ring or individual molds. Serve with cheese balls made of cottage cheese rolled in chopped nut meats. Mayonnaise or any preferred salad dressing may be used.

Date Muffs
1/2 cupful shortening
1/2 cupful sugar
1 egg
3/4 cupful milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoonful salt

Cream shortening and add sugar. Add egg and beat well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt three times. Add this alternately with the milk. Beat thoroughly and add dates. Put in greased muffin tins and bake in a 300 degree oven, 15 to 20 minutes. This makes twelve muffins.

Oats Crop Falls
While the rains were making the corn, they were also destroying the wheat and oats in the county.

The oats crop was almost a complete failure, much of the grain still standing in the fields. A large part of the wheat was harvested before the heavy rainfall could do serious damage.

Farmers today are planting wheat under difficult conditions. Practically all winter wheat is usually sown before this date but again the heavy rains are held responsible for the up-set in crop conditions.

In substance, the wet proposition is this: if you don't want people shot full of holes, repeat the dry law.

Any married man will appreciate the evident truth of young Mr. Krichmuller's statement, that marriage would interfere with his teaching, but think of the opportunity it would afford him to be taught!

Anyway, it will have to be admitted that Soviet Russia is consistent. Having discarded belief in God, it's not at all surprising that it should also discard soap.

We hope our royal visitors will not embarrass us by singing their national anthem, which has suddenly grown so popular over here, for we would just about be forced, in that event, to sing ours, and any one who has heard a mass attempt along that line will know what we mean.

The last estimate gave Chicago a population of 3,000,000, but in the absence of a complete check-up on recent gangster activities up there, it may be well to deduct a few hundred to be on the safe side.

It's easy to understand the feeling of motorists toward road hogs, but a bit hard to understand how so many of them, feeling as they do, become crossing hogs when stopping for traffic signals and at approaches to thoroughfares.

The young American who claims she is the best-dressed woman in the world has just taken on a fourth husband, and if her pictures may be taken as trustworthy, the more husbands she takes on, the more clothes she takes off.

We gravely fear that our British cousins, who sneer at our manifest enthusiasm over royalty as represented by Queen Marie, do not understand the motive behind it. It is simply the way we, as a democratic, liberty-loving people, take to show that we have no ill-feeling toward that against which we rebelled something like a century and a half ago.

After an unusual number of the rich husbands of the members of the Lucratta club over in a village in Jugoslavia had died suddenly, it was discovered that the club had been named after Lucratta Borgia and not Saint Lucratta, as had been assumed, and that all the husbands had been poisoned by their wives in order that the latter might secure their husbands' money. Different lands, different ways. Over here they shoot 'em in the back "in self-defense."

Tonight's Republican Rally.

Citizens of Marion will be given opportunity to hear a number of able speakers at the Republican rally in the Star auditorium at 7:30 o'clock this evening. United States Senator Stinson D. Pess, of Yellow Springs; Robert A. R. Taft, of Cincinnati; James H. Hopley, of Bucyrus, Republican candidate for congress in this district; and Robert L. Rohe, of Tiffin, Republican candidate for state senator, being on the evening's program for addresses.

The chief speaker of the rally will naturally be Senator Pess. An educator of high reputation, he went to Washington with a splendidly-trained mind, and, despite his comparatively short experience there, is recognized as one of the best and deepest thinkers in the upper house of congress. The senator always has a message; it is never the repetition of the thought of another, but the child of his own experience, observation and thought, and he knows how to deliver it. Having heard him, we know him to be a forceful orator.

Mr. Taft who has been conspicuous in the activities of our general assembly is also an excellent speaker. We know Mr. Hopley so well here in Marion that he is almost like one of us, and we know him well enough to know that he speaks from conviction and means what he says. Mr. Rohe is one of the brightest minds in our senatorial district and an easy and graceful speaker. As a whole, the evening's program should be one entertaining and instructive alike to all who are interested, as all should be, in the political issues of the day.

Not so long ago we urged attendance at the local Democratic campaign opening, because we believe that all, regardless of their own political leanings, should know what the other side has to say. It is for this same reason that we bespeak a hearing, regardless of what may be the reader's political affiliations, of the speakers at the Star auditorium tonight.

No Physical Perfection Known.

It's a bit discouraging to read what these health experts have to tell us. According to their way of thinking, the human race is in pretty bad shape, and about the only way it is ever going to be able to pull through and keep on as a going concern, as it were, is to exercise eternal vigilance and spot and combat each and all of the life of which we are heir from ancestors in ages past and gone.

The latest pronouncement along this line is by Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute. According to his statement health scientists have given us hope of finding physical perfection; that it is their feeling that it is no longer obtainable. Among the men he has examined, he says, he has never found an A grade man, and the B grade are few and far between; that it is even impossible to find a perfect specimen at birth.

Man, he holds, is born handicapped by all the imperfections, ailments and injuries picked up by his ancestors, and immediately upon birth is assailed by a lot of new ones. The only thing which can be done is to discover every defect, ailment and injury as it appears and then learn its causes and combat them. In this way much can be done to improve the physical condition, and the doctor has no doubt that man's period of activity can be lengthened, but there is nothing to show that man can be made perfect.

If one could get himself in harmony with his surroundings and prevent friction of any sort, the doctor holds—and we assume that he here means mental friction—if man understood himself and protected himself from the thousand and one insidious enemies which serve to shorten life, he could go on forever. If there were such a thing as a perfect man, living a flawless life and one attuned to his environment, he need never die, but go on living forever. But this is not in harmony with the scheme of life, it is not in harmony with nature, and hence man is born to live and struggle and wage the battle of life and pass on to his fathers.

The doctor says the changes which occur in men between the ages of sixty and seventy are not wrought by time, as so many are prone to believe, but that they are the effects of what has been going on in his system, year after year, and been neglected by him. Only ten per cent. of our male population, he holds, are fortunate enough to suffer from minor ailments. All the rest have ailments which may be classed as serious. Womanhood is less subject to serious ailments than man, and hence woman's longevity is greater.

But while much—perhaps all—of what Dr. Fisk tells us is true, cold statistics go to show that we are making progress against bodily ills and ailments. We have been learning to know our bodies better, we know more of the effect of mind on matter, we are taking better care of ourselves, we are more frequently going to the doctor to have ourselves examined against possible evils from which we suffer, but do not suspect. We are using more judgment in what we eat, how we eat and when we eat, and are learning the merit of wholesome foodstuffs and their proper preparation. We know more about sanitation and ventilation. And the result is that we have added perceptibly to the average span of life—not a year or two in the last half century, but from ten to twelve years. And this is the cheering side of the health proposition it will profit us to keep in mind when confronted by dismal forebodings.

It has been said that "there is always the streak of silver in the stormcloud no matter how lumbrous it may be," that the "sun is always shining some place." This progress which science and medicine and common sense are making against disease is the "streak of silver," the sunlight which is shining somewhere.

Think of all the literary hogwash newspaper readers might have escaped had the elderly Mr. Browning and Alfred McPherson met and fallen for each other before the former went in for the cultivation of Peaches and the latter became interested in electric phenomena.

We are not only willing to admit that for the past ten years Marie has wanted to visit us, but also that she has been planning through all of them how best to visit the American feeling and capture our good will. It's next to impossible to think that her cleverness in this regard is wholly and absolutely spontaneous.

"We are strong against lynchings and all that," says the Columbus Dispatch. "But we must say that a people that is not aroused to summary action by such a fiendish murder as that committed by the mail truck robbers in New Jersey is one of great reserve and self-control." Why not go the whole distance and admit that there should be the exception to prove every rule?

Vagrant Verse.

EVERY WOMAN TO HER BELOVED.

Without you, I am nothing.
Have you not seen a barren tree on a bleak hill?

I am that leafless tree.
My dark rooms wither in the sod.
Even the breast of earth can quicken me no more.

Have you not heard a lost child crying in the night?
Crying for home?

I am that child you heard,
And I am lost and homeless without you.

You are the sheepfold
And the wide green meadow.
The star of evening and the star of dawn.
You are the valley, and the singing river
You are the voice of winds in trees
And waves on sand.

You are my bread of longing,
And the ache of my unbroken dream.
You are the angel of the seven dreams.
You are the winged brother of my spirit.
The son of Love and Beauty.

Who were we?
That you might be born unto them
You are the city and the desert of my desire.
You are the sky above my loneliness.
You are my flower and fruit
In orchard and in vineyard
You are the snowy hill of my remembrance
You are earth, and time,
And beyond all time,
And you are freedom
And all free and deathless things.

THE NEW AVIATOR.

Eyestrain the Cause of Bad Lids.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Nobody likes to have red eyes or inflamed eyelids. Nothing is more repulsive than to see the eyelashes encrusted with scales, the edges of the lids scaly and ulcerated, some of the lashes falling out, and the corners of the eyes filled with white froth or mucus.

Of course, normal eyes in persons of normal health never act this way. There is something wrong with you or with your eyes if these symptoms are present.

By the latter part of this statement I mean there is something defective about your eyesight, or a strain of some sort is present to lay the foundation for an disagreeable condition. In short, the trouble is not likely to be purely local.

Along the edges of the lids is a row of little glands. They discharge their contents through tiny tubes. The purpose of this arrangement is to supply a lubricating substance to keep the lids from sticking together.

All the glands of the body depend on the blood supply. The amount of the secretion is determined by the amount of blood going to the part. If there is little blood there is little secretion. If there is too much blood there is too much secretion.

The same rules govern the glands of the eyelids. The secretion is too much due to an excess of secretion. It can not be wiped away, or washed away by the tears, so it collects on the edges of the lids, dries on the eyelashes and gradually accumulates until the lids are actually deformed in appearance.

The whole trouble goes back to the fact that too much blood is being pumped into the lids. When we discover why this is the case, we may be able to remove the cause and correct the difficulty.

The chief cause of congestion of the eyelids and eyelashes, too, is eyestrain. That is, the eyesight is not normal and glasses are required to correct the defect.

The kind of eyestrain which produces trouble with the eyes is founded on a defect so slight that by an effort it can be overcome and the vision made normal. If the defect is so serious that it can not be overcome by an effort, the effort is not made and no symptoms, except the bad sight itself, are observed.

It is as if a boy were to take an examination. If it is so difficult he has no chance to pass it, he doesn't try. If it is hard but within his grasp, he makes the effort.

That strain comes from making the effort to see. That strain results in a demand for more blood, because every muscular effort is accompanied by increased blood supply. In consequence the eyes get red, and since the strain is constant, they stay red.

Under any given circumstances a large number of people can be depended upon to make themselves ridiculous. Just now American youth are writing letters to the daughter of the queen of Roumania and the vague expression of interest and in a marriage proposition. Note the confident tone of one letter: "Don't pay any attention to other American seeking the hand of your highness. They are no good. I am the man for you."

The depths of human quibbles have no bottom.

And yet come a people ignorant hidden who suggests that a girl will put pepper on the bars of prison bars, he will sell more of them.

How fortunate it is for all of us that there are so many things to laugh at in this world!

What is your baby worth in actual money? You would not be interested in an offer of millions. But a baby has a value that can be computed in cash. Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician of a great life insurance company, finds that the average baby at birth is worth $9,733. This is based on his probable earning value. Well, the statisticians can astound us. They can prove anything—but they can't make mothers and fathers put a cash register value on babies.

H. L. Mencken finds joy in the fact that plasterers and bricklayers get larger salaries than college professors. Now that is nothing to be glad about. Something is wrong with our so-called civilized system when scientists, inventors, teachers, get less pay than plumbers. Not that plumbers, plasterers and bricklayers should get less. Why should they? The writer of this column believes in high wages. But teachers and the few others who do the creative work of the world should get vastly more. Everybody should get plenty, but we are all off on our proportion.

A man, come suddenly into riches, was showing his friends his recently bought library. Putting his hand on one end of a row of books and then moving it along a few volumes, he said: "I have read from here to here."

Others, not quite so childish, say: "I keep up with the new books. I look over them all. I have read a bit of a lot of stuff."

The really wise ones pick a book here and there. If it is sound and informative and inspiring they read it three times. That is better than reading "from here to here" or keeping up on new publications.

The whine of the world is: "I am misunderstood." Pooh-pooh! Everybody is. It's a good thing that many of us are misunderstood. Thus we pass for knowing more than we do. Emerson had something to say about that.

He said:

"Misunderstood! It is a fool's world. Is it so bad, then, to be misunderstood? Pythagoras was misunderstood, and Socrates, and Jesus, and Luther, and Copernicus, and Galileo, and Newton, and every pure and wise spirit that ever took flesh. To be great is to be misunderstood."

Who's Who and Why.

JUSTUS S. WARDELL.

Justus S. Wardell, the Democratic nominee for governor of California, was born in San Francisco in 1872. When he was twelve years old he moved to Gilroy and attended the public schools there, later returning to the city of his birth where he entered upon the study of law while working in a printing office, where he learned the newspaper business from printer's devil to editor and proprietor.

In 1890 he became a reporter on one of the big dailies. This was the beginning of a career which at one time or another found him on the staff of most of the San Francisco papers. Next he became the proprietor and editor of the Daily Journal of Commerce, which he published in San Francisco for twenty-two years.

As early as 1896 Wardell was interested in politics, became active in the reform movement that resulted in the nomination and election of James D. Phelan as mayor of San Francisco. Two years later the citizens of the Thirty-Ninth assembly district broke down their party lines and sent him as their representative at Sacramento from a district with an overwhelming Republican registration.

As one of the leaders in the thirty-third session of the legislature in 1913, Wardell placed Mr. Phelan in nomination for United States senator. The legislature adjourned without electing a senator. Since then he has been associated with Senator Phelan in all Democratic campaigns in California.

Woodrow Wilson appointed him surveyor of customs in the year 1913. Mr. Wardell was the first official in the United States to conduct a hearing in connection with a complaint against a steamship company respecting the language clause in the seaman's act.

Four years later President Wilson, upon the recommendation of Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, promoted him to the office of collector of internal revenue.

He resigned from his office of collector of internal revenue in December, 1920, and since then has been an income tax expert. He is married and has two children.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 28.—There is a dramatic side to these New York welcoming demonstrations which burst with the 285,000-odd cheering skyrockets and ended with a flourish of black and pink. The "Welcome" to a royal welcome and forget it.

The ruckus is not confined to the city. A lady channel swimmer who was "blatantly" "Welcome" to our harbor draws the cognoscenti in braided coats and silk toppers. The entire city thunders its bravo!

If the celebrity is returning from the prior will be jammed, bands will play, planes will shower roses, and the deafening din, and the confused and bewildered victim will be led through the confetti to the City hall steps to be welcomed by the mayor.

New York is theirs for the moment. The business comes to a full stop and the city is held in a state of excitement. The hubbub is not so much a tribute to the king as it is merely the expression of the pleasure of an over-worked city.

Somebody has said Gotham built a triumphal arch in order to have something to hurl at the departed hero when he has passed by. The biggest hero celebration in the city's history was accorded Admiral Dewey and in a few weeks he was riddled with mockery.

The fervor of a New York crowd during a welcome huzzah is a curious study in psychology. Once released it runs riot among the old as well as young. Police nerves are helpless and it often requires many ambulances to cart away the trampled.

And the celebrities lifted to such dizzy pinnacles find themselves high and dry and alone. A few days later, New York seems to say: "We made fools of ourselves over a 'beat it'." So they can only seek solace in the theatrical booking offices.

The greatest trial of stags stars is to face the inevitable public indifference when popularity wanes. Only the extremely philosophical can realize that they had their day and make the best of it. Few are able to comprehend while applause is ringing in their ears that one day soon they will be pointed out as "a star."

Upper Broadway in the Eighties has innumerable jewelry stores whose proprietors have returned from an audition of the tweeter birdies bound and gagged in a back room with their stock gone. To aid in their safety a "hold up" police alarm box has been installed in a sidewalk clock near Eighty-Fourth street.

There are fifteen special air mail boxes striped red, white and blue between Grand Central and the battery yet they average only a few letters a day. Sufficient ordinary postage marked, "Air Mail," does the trick and lastly New York is too busy to search out the special boxes.

New York seems to have shown undue excitement about the five-year-run of the "Vibe" show. James A. Herne's first play "Hears of Oak" ran twelve years.

In a rather nude musical revue program I notice: "Scanties furnished by the Backless Assurance Company." What the heck the country boys ask to know, is a scanty?

In the same program is an ad. urging who to romp to a certain studio and have their faces analyzed. It intimates the only way to keep a husband these days is to be always merry and bright.—Copyright, 1926.

In the conclusion of the game the Marion boys were given a shower of stones, bricks and other missiles carelessly thrown in their direction by spectators. One of them, Terpany, was badly cut across the forehead.

Detroit established a record for cheapness by beginning the sale of ten street tickets for a quarter.

George P. Coddling, residing four miles southwest of LaRue, was run down and killed by an automobile when alighting from a street car in Cleveland.

Social Activities

A CHARMING home wedding was celebrated at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Frank, 800 E. Church-st., when their daughter Miss Isabelle Frank was united in marriage to Dr. Thomas H. Sutherland, also of this city. Rev. Raymond W. Smiley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, read the single ring service of the Episcopal Church, in the presence of only the immediate families and a few close friends of the bride. A reception and wedding breakfast followed the ceremony and later the bride and bridegroom left on an extended honeymoon through the East.

Gibson streamers held by Mrs. Walter Schaffner and Miss Philomena Gregg, formed an aisle from the stairway to an altar arranged before the fireplace in the livingroom, where the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was met by Dr. Sutherland and his attendant, Howard Gutbergh. Miss Grace Cooper presided at the piano playing strains from Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The bride wore a wedding gown of white crepe Elizabeth with pearl trimmings, and her tulle veil was caught in cup fashion with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her flowers were a corsage of Bride's Roses showered with lace and lilies of the valley. For traveling she wore a frock of gray.

Baskets of fall flowers arranged a colorful note in the livingroom, while in the diningroom tints of pink and white predominated in the decorative scheme. The bride's table was centered with a bridal cake of pink and white arranged with roundels and lighted with cathedral tapers in silver holders, with tulle, while the same tints carried out an effective color note for the smaller tables arranged in the reception room and livingroom.

Mrs. Sutherland belongs to the younger social circle of the city and is a descendant from one of the oldest families in the county, her great-grandfather Cunningham being a pioneer of this section of the state. She is a member of the E. O. S. Club, Art Club, Lacrosse and Captain William Hendrick's Chapter, D. A. R. THIEVES GET $30 FROM GARAGE CASH DRAWER

Looting Done While Attendant Sells Gasoline at Street Curb

Kenton, Oct. 20.—Thieves Tuesday looted the cash register and safe in the office of the Service Garage on W. Franklin-st., making their escape with more than $30 dollars in silver and bills.

The robbery occurred while the service man was pumping gas into a tourist's car standing in front of the garage. It is believed that one of the party of young men hid in the garage when the service man, Jess Holen, was called outside.

The robbery was not discovered until Holen started to ring up the cash from the sale. By that time the tourist's car had disappeared.

This is the second time within 45 days that the garage had been robbed. In the first robbery when $25 was taken from the register, the thieves tied the night service man to an automobile. He remained a prisoner until the day force reported for work.

In both cases valuable stores of accessories were left unguarded.

Billy Southworth Honored by Kenton Baseball Fans

Kenton, Oct. 20.—During the half day of Kenton's career as a baseball town, a Columbus high school lad, Billy Southworth, came here to play his first professional baseball.

Tuesday night just 15 years later, the self-same lad, now the star outfielder of the St. Louis pennant winners, returned to his hometown, the greatest player of them all.

More than 250 admirers welcomed the city's own Billy Southworth and paid him honor when he was entertained with a testimonial dinner in Elk's home.

The star was called upon to tell how he felt in being among a group of pennant winners and his response dealt particularly with the growth and drifting of the series in New York. His chief comment was on Grover Alexander, the veteran, who so nobly came to the rescue of Jess Haines who was forced to retire in the seventh inning of that eventful contest.

The veteran pitcher, Southworth related, came slowly across the field of the Yankee Stadium from the left pen in answer to Hainey's summons. His sweater coat was buttoned crooked, his pants were baggy at the knees, his general appearance was that of a slouch. The infield players met him in the outfield and started talking it up. It was when old Aleck went to the rubber, I felt youthful first sacker, who was to star in the last inning of that game, tossed him the ball with these words, Aleck, there's two men down, three on base and Lazzari is in.

Alexander, slowly rubbing the ball in his hands and taking a look around the bases, replied, "Yep, they're all occupied—no place for this young feller—guess I'll just take care of him myself." Two high fast ones, the first, a straight ball, the second, a slight curve. The third ball was close to Lazzari's chin to drive him back from the plate and the fourth was the third strike, a wide curve, two feet outside but Lazzari swung anyway.

The Cards mobbed Aleck at the bench, they all wanted to shake hands and ride on his back and the veteran made this observation, "I don't see why all this attention, if he hadn't hit on the last one, I was going to throw him another just like it."

Southworth stressed in his talk the part each member of the squad played in bringing the 1926 flag to St. Louis city. He corrected the impression that Hainey had blamed Hainey, outfielder, for the loss of the fifth game, after he missed a couple of fly balls in left field. The testimonial dinner last evening was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce, Ellis Lodge, and athletic associations of the N. Y. C. shops and high school, and on behalf of the fans the honored guest was presented with an Elk's tooth.

Burr Fingel was chairman of the program including music by high school groups, and addresses by former teammates of Southworth, and leaders in Kenton's civic life.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT RESERVE MEET

One Met Play Presented By Members Is Feature of Program

Kenton, Oct. 20.—Gallion Girl Reserves here had an unusually good attendance at the regular meeting held in the school auditorium Monday evening. About 60 members are enrolled in the organization this year and at the meeting eleven new members were voted upon.

Although a new project last year, the club was a decided success and the girls this year are determined to carry on the work. Besides the devotionals and club songs in which all members participate, a special program of some sort is arranged for each meeting. The special feature in this instance was a clever skit play dramatized by several of the members. The play brought out the ideals and aims of the G. R.'s and also demonstrated the achievements necessary to win a ring, symbolical of the highest honor that can be conferred.

Many social activities were discussed, foremost among them being the Halloween party which will be an event of late October.

HIGHER WATER RATES SOUGHT BY UTILITY

Marysville Company Asks Commission For More Than 100 Per Cent Increase

Marysville, Oct. 20.—The Marysville Water Company has filed with the state Utilities Commission a new schedule of increased rates for water service in Marysville to take effect November 5 if the same is allowed. This schedule would be the second increase in rates for water that local consumers will have to bear within the present year. New rates were allowed the old company known as the Marysville Light & Water company last February. The new company will meet with much opposition in putting across the new schedule. The minimum charge for water for a year will be $16 whereas it is $4 for the same length of time under the present schedule, which will mean that consumers will pay more than double the present rate.

The Marysville council is considering ways of fighting the new rates. It is probable that they will demand an improvement of the holdings of the company and thereby prove that the same do not justify rates asked in the petition. The property of the company was appraised at $196,404 at the time it was transferred from the old company to the new. This amount was lowered to $177,463 by the commission.

UTILITIES BODY TO HEAR PLEAS FOR BUS GRANTS

To Act on Application Protested by Marion Chamber of Commerce

Applications of three companies for permits to operate bus lines between Columbus and Detroit over routes passing through Marion are up for hearing today before the State Utilities Commission in Columbus and among the several protests filed against the proposals is one coming from the board of directors of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

The local board's objections are outlined in a resolution passed at a meeting held last week in the Chamber of Commerce office here.

The protest filed by the Marion organization refers only to the request of the applicants for permission to carry passengers between stations in Ohio. The State Utilities Commission has no jurisdiction over interstate transportation, such as the companies propose to handle in through service between Columbus and Detroit, this being entirely under the supervision of federal authorities. The hearing and the protests filed by the Marion Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, apply solely to the right of handling local business within the state of Ohio.

Two Routes
Two proposed routes are designated in the application of the three companies. The southern section of both extends from Columbus to Marion but at this point one goes north over the Upper Sandusky road while the other follows the highway through Bucyrus, both leading from these points to Findlay and thence through Toledo to Detroit.

In protesting against that part of the proposed franchise which would give the applicants permission to handle local business, the Marion Chamber of Commerce directors point out that all of the territory to be traversed by the lines is now adequately served by either electric or steam railways or bus companies included in the service now available is that provided by the Hocking Valley and Pennsylvania Railways, the C., D. & M. and C., M. & B. Interurban lines, and the Maumee River bus routes.

The Chamber of Commerce directors say that the facilities thus provided are in every way ample and satisfactory and that existing new competition would not only be unnecessary but would probably result in crippling the service that is now available.

OBITUARY

SAMUEL LESTER BOND

A son of Charles S. and Della Howser, Bond, was born at Crawford, Ohio, on the 20th day of January, 1892, and departed from this life at the Marion City Hospital at 4:30 p. m., on Thursday, October 7, 1926, being at the time of his decease 34 years, 8 months and 8 days of age. On the 14th day of Sept. 1921, he was united in marriage with Miss Maude Mae Voss of Marion. To them was born one child, Virginia Lee, now two years of age.

Brother Bond has spent most of his life in Marion. For 13 years he has been employed by the Erie Railroad Co., at this place. For several weeks he was in ill health, four weeks of this time he was confined to his bed. On Tuesday night of Oct. 5, he was hurried to the City Hospital, and at one o'clock that following a. m., underwent a surgical operation but at 4:30 p. m., Thursday, he was not for he had gone to be with God. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of this city, also of the Elks. While young he was converted and united with the M. E. Church, of Tipton, Ohio, and at the time of his death was a member of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, the church in which on September 29, 1924, with his now bereft companion, the dear little one, was consecrated and dedicated to God in baptism. Brother Bond is survived by his bereft companion, the precious little one, Virginia Lee, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bond of Marion, four brothers, Foster of Ostrander, Ohio, Gale of Ann Arbor, Mich., Russell of Davidston, Marion, O., Gerald at home; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Tashley of Marion and Miss Lucille Bond at home.

the maternal grandfather, Mr. Samuel Howser of Upper Sandusky, O., and other relatives and a host of friends. That Brother Bond was absolutely ready to go there is no question. Evidence to this was given in no uncertain and to the end of the journey. For thus we thank God.

Asleep in Jesus, Blessed sleep, From which none ever wake to weep. A calm and undisturbed repose, Unbroken by the last of foes.

Asleep in Jesus, Oh, how sweet, To be for such a glimmer meet; With Holy confidence to sing That death has lost his dreaded sting.

Asleep in Jesus, peaceful rest, Whose waking is supremely best. No fear, no weeping shall dim that hour, That manifests the Saviour's power.

Asleep in Jesus, far from thee, Thy kindred and their graves shall be, But thine is still a blessed sleep, From which none ever wake to weep.

MORE STRENUOUS WORK AHEAD OF CANDIDATES

Senator Willis at Ravenna Tonight; Opponent Speaks at Dayton

Columbus, Oct. 20.—Another strenuous period of speech making faced the candidates in the state political campaign today in their quest for election to office on Nov. 2.

Sen. Frank H. Willis, Republican, running for another term, was scheduled for an address at Ravenna tonight while his Democratic opponent, Allen Pomeroy, was slated to speak at Dayton in the afternoon and again in the evening.

James Y. Cooper, Republican gubernatorial candidate, was listed to continue his speaking tour of Columbiana County today, concluding it with a meeting tonight at Steubenville while Governor Donnelly, seeking a third term, again remained politically inactive.

AUTO CLUB REQUESTS AID IN SAFETY DRIVE

Campaign Opens To Prevent Accidents to Marion School Children

With schools opening in a few days, the auto club is operating a safety drive campaign generally aimed at preventing the problem which presents a serious danger to school children. According to Mr. D. W. Gallagher, secretary of the Marion Auto Club, this drive is a part of a larger one covering children's safety and is intended to assist in the work of the state highway department.

The project of a safety drive campaign is being made by the Marion Auto Club to reach the situation, says Mrs. Gallagher. "It may seem needless to pass by a child when one has room in one's car for four or five additional passengers, but it is only a superficial view of the situation, in the opinion of traffic officials. Motorists must realize that they are liable for an injury that may come to a child that given a lift and unless they are capable of driving and at the same time keeping a close watch on their minds, it is better to refuse them a ride."

"Parents should be willing to cooperate in ending this practice," the Auto Club secretary says. "They should make it their duty to impress their children with the dangers of riding. Teachers, too, can give invaluable assistance in discouraging their children from taking such risks. Those who give the matter careful thought will realize that the interest of safety demand a quick and sure solution of this problem."

WORKMAN IS KILLED IN ATHENS STREET RIOTING

Athens, Oct. 20.—One workman was killed, several workmen and a number of others were injured, and numerous arrests were made as the result of rioting in the streets here following an acrimonious dispute among workmen.

The workmen who had differences over their views, refused to disperse when ordered by the police and the police fired a volley over the heads of the demonstrators. The military guard at the central telephone office rushed to the assistance of the police and a struggle ensued.

The troublesome discussions arose over the printers' organ which continues. Newspapers are appearing in reduced form.

Women students are admitted to the universities and schools of Roumania on a basis of perfect equality with men.

Pennsylvania Eleven Performs Magically for Opponents

Hidden Ball Trick Proves Baffling to Four Leading Teams When Used by Stars

All-American Eleven May Include Thayer, Butler, Rogers, Wascolonis and Murphy; Five Penn State Magicians Is Belief of Well-Known Sports Writer

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Oct. 29.—The eye may be quicker than the hand, but you can prove it neither by the common who tried to beat the shell game at the county fair nor the football teams that have tried to beat Pennsylvania this season.

Four of them, Franklin and Marshall, Johns Hopkins, Swarthmore and Chicago, have given the matter their attention and some of the boys haven't seen the ball yet.

Pennsylvania is making expeditious use of a hidden ball attack, so wonderfully timed and executed as to suggest parlor magic. Alonzo Stagg seemed to think it was the greatest yet, but, as to that, I don't think the team that can take the play away from that old Harvard sleight-of-hand business that Hamilton once used.

Trick Requires Stars

It is the type of attack that needs the men to make it really useful and Pennsylvania has them in plenty. In fact, the team is nursing five all-American possibilities in George Thayer, end; Jack Butler, center; Charley Rogers and Al Wascolonis backs, and Paul Murphy, quarterback.

The latter is the key man in the attack. The boy who makes the motions that send defensive linemen chasing desperately after the man who hasn't the ball. Paul is only a sophomore, but he looks the part of a fine all-around football player.

He's a quarterback of the old school, the kind that kicks, runs and passes in addition to calling the plays. He does everything well, and in spite of the fact that the veteran, Laird, is ready as an understudy, I think it would go very hard with Pennsylvania if it lost Murphy, even for a half game.

Rogers, however, is another ideal triple threat and probably the greatest ball runner in the squad, if not in the East. Wascolonis and Clarence Fields are the line crackers and every man in the backfield can be turned loose to receive passes, but the best whether at this game is Captain Thayer at end. He may be the best of a lot of good things that we have in the East this season.

Paul Scull is another good ball runner, just good enough in all departments to keep men like Fields and Jesse Douglas, veterans of several years standing out of the starting line. Douglas, in fact, is out pretty much altogether.

Stars Flood Penn State

For Pennsylvania is almost affluent in material. Thayer and Don Singer are home-grown ends from last year.

So is F. Scull, their immediate understudy. The same goes for the tackles, Ed Hake, Bob Pike and Ed Fonde, and one of the guards, Dick Snyder. Butler was shifted from guard to center between seasons, leaving only Sam Parks and Stewart Brydon as forwards of no great previous experience.

With the surplus of veteran class, it is difficult to see how Pennsylvania can go wrong. But it can. I didn't like its seven-man line with the old style box defense against Chicago and I would say that a better passing team might have given the Penn defense plenty to do. It may find, too, that it is playing its tackles and ends a little too close in when it meets Illinois next week.

Grange never would have run as wild as he did last year if Pennsylvania forwards had followed a less conservative style of play.

Penn Has Punch

However, there is no mistaking the fact that Pennsylvania has the punch. Its fine set of backs operate behind a line which seems to be at its best as an attacking unit. It showed something of the favor of genius in opening holes against Chicago. Even the fact that the latter's forwards were more too good can't dim the lustre of the performance. It was very evident that the Penn Eleven knew entirely too much offensive football to go very far wrong against the worst of opposition. The attack, therefore, comes by its effectiveness honestly. It isn't one of those point-a-minute machines, but it has averaged 38 points through four games and that is better than any Pennsylvania team has done during modern times. It really deserves its ranking of the moment with the best in the East.

NEW YORK WILL SEE ARMY-NAVY GAME IN 1927

Philadelphia Draws Annual Football Classic For Following Year

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 29.—New York has drawn the Army-Navy football game for 1927, while the 1928 contest will be played in Philadelphia, naval academy authorities announced today. The athletic authorities of the two service schools also announced they had signed a four-year agreement for the game, carrying with it West Point's adoption of the one-year rule, which means that cadets will not be eligible to participate in varsity athletics until after one year of academic work. This rule has been in effect at Annapolis for more than three years. The agreement will become effective July 1, next, and extends until July 1, 1930.

Two new players have been signed this year in addition to all of last year's stars. Bob Yazel and H. Pether will play this season with the East Side Aces in addition to playing the regular schedule with the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric Company's quintet.

Players signed last night are Pether, R. Peardon, Gambol, guards; Barton, center; Schorr, Art, Yazel and Sargent, guards.

Manager Peardon is busy booking games with some of the leading independent teams within a 150 mile radius. Penna wishing good clean fast games should write or wire George Peardon, 223 Jefferson-st., Marion.

When R. E. Hanley, former Washington State grid star, took charge of the Haskell Indian football team five years ago the school was having tough sledding on the grid. Mother and Wife Give in to Reserve Stars' Pleas Cleveland, Oct. 29.—A mother's and a wife's consent will be two chief factors in this week's feature Ohio Conference football game when Western Reserve meets Wooster Saturday.

It is a mother's consent that gives Reserve a new quarterback, a man who can pass, kick and run with the ball. It is a wife's consent that keeps one of the most consistent ground gainers of Ohio collegiate gridirers in the Reserve lineup.

Harold Fellingner, who was considered as the Cleveland team's best bet at the start of the season, may call signals against Wooster Saturday. Because Harold is an only son of a widowed mother, he was forced to quit football after the second day of practice. An injury to Harold would mean a cultic to the closest human to his mother's heart. But after much pleading and the passing of three games, in which Reserve won two and lost one, she has given way to her son's never ending pleading.

Fritz Phipps, Reserve fullback, was on trial in the game against Oberlin last week. After the tilt in which Western Reserve trounced Hiram and Baldwin Wallace, Fritz sustained an injured knee. His bride of only a month and a half was against her youthful collegiate hubby playing football and getting hurt. She promised to put him on probation in the game with Oberlin.

Fritz gained more than 200 yards all by himself in the Oberlin tilt. And now—well his bride just can't keep him out of the game.

He is Bill Hess, who played on the Case freshman team back in 1922 and on the same team with Benny Friedman, Michigan's all-American quarterback, in his high school days. This week, Hess was declared eligible for play after staying away from academic life for two years. In his sophomore year, he went to Minnesota and played on the frosh eleven there.

Case meets Denison here Saturday in Cleveland's only college game of the day. John Carroll goes to Detroit where it meets Detroit University Saturday afternoon.

WESLEYAN BUSY FOR ADA BATTLE

Wooster Defeat Saturday Does Not Discourage Delaware Eleven

Delaware, O., Oct. 29.—Undisturbed by the defeat at the hands of Wooster Saturday, Coach George Gauthier this week is trying to patch together a team that will be able to cope with Ohio Northern, Ohio Wesleyan's foe to be met at Ada this week-end.

Gauthier is undisturbed because he realizes that a winning combination is not possible year after year, especially when in one season Wooster lost 12 lettermen by graduation. Therefore the optimistic Mr. Gauthier is going right ahead trying to patch up a machine which he hopes will hold its own against a fighting Polar Bear outfit.

It has become a tradition here to expect a terrific battle against Northern. The up-staters have not won in recent years from the Bishops and would be delighted to overcome their brother Methodists when the Red and Black seems to be below par in strength.

The Bishops coaching staff was augmented Monday by the presence in Delaware of Julian Winters, last year's star quarterback, named by Ohio sports writers as captain and quarterback on the mythical all-Ohio eleven. Winters appeared in a suit and gave the backs some valuable pointers. He is a brother of the famous "Sonny" Winters, also rounds.

chores as an all-Ohio player when he was here in school. There are now playing professional football.

Gauthier drove his men hard early this week. He expects to taper off the training by Friday and the scrimmage scheduled for Thursday is to be the stiffest workout of the week.

Johnny Dundee Outclassed by Hooted Junior Lightweight Champion

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—This city had its first championship boxing match in fourteen years last night and today a bad taste was cleaving to the roof of the mouths of some 15,000 spectators who saw Ted Morgan, junior lightweight champion of the world, successfully defend his title against the ancient Johnny Dundee, former featherweight champion.

Morgan won every round from the Italian fighter, but collected nothing but boots, with the exception of the cash, of course, for his efforts.

In 1908 Christy Mathewson pitched 48 games for the Giants, winning 37 and losing 11.

All You Expect

To become a Lucky Strike smoker makes one more critical of cigarettes.
Usual standards no longer appeal.
For in Lucky Strikes you get the choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and perfectly blended—and something more.

If judged only by comparison of 1. Finer Flavor. Toasting for 45 minutes develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos.
2. Smoothness. Toasting for 45 minutes removes all "bite" and harshness, hence never any throat irritation.
3. Freshness. Then the tobacco is suddenly chilled. This seals the flavor in and insures constant freshness.

Thus the toasting process is an addition. It adds a unique and distinct improvement to a cigarette that has already been made from the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. It is the reason millions prefer Lucky Strikes.

SPEED OF FATHERS COURSES IN VEINS OF THIS RUNNER

Philip O'Leary, captain of the Haskell Indian school cross country team and a Pima Indian, is called one of the greatest runners in the country. He won the six-mile Junior A. A. U. title last July and the next day won the senior championship with a new American record of 31:32.

CROWNS ARE IN DEMAND

heavyweight, light heavyweight, middleweight, welterweight and lightweight divisions have changed hands since the beginning of this year.

BOATMEN MEET IN NEW YORK
Several matters of interest and importance to the speed boat owners are to be brought up for discussion at the annual meeting of the American Power Boat Association, to be held in New York October 23.

HARVARD-DARTMOUTH GAME
The Harvard football game is always a big event in Dartmouth College circles and this year it is to be the annual Dartmouth athletic holiday.

GOLD MEN WILL PAY $2,500 TO SEE ARMY-NAVY

Chicago's Families Reserve
Big Boxes for Outstanding Event

Chicago, Oct. 20.—This city's Ar-more, Swifts and other elite families of the "Gold Coast" along the castles-tudded banks of Lake Michigan will pay from $2,000 to $2,500 to witness the Army-Navy football tilt in Soldier's Field here November 27.

The game, played for the first time away from the East, will be the mid-west's outstanding sporting social event.

Faced by the tremendous cost of housing the entire membership of the United States military academies at West Point and Annapolis here to witness the game, Chicagoans in charge of arrangements for the gridiron clash have announced that 500 boxes in the stadium will be auctioned off to society leaders.

Each box contains six seats and all are located in desirable sections.

Thirty boxes are to be used for the army and navy and a special box has been reserved for President and Mrs.
Coolidge, who may attend.

Regular Tickets
Prices for regular tickets to the game have not yet been announced but the choice seats will cost in the neighborhood of $10 each.

If the sale of boxes to Chicago's wealthy brings a large sum, it is possible some seats as low as $5 each will be offered the public.

The agreement under which the historic game will be played in Chicago provides that not only must Chicago transport the two teams and the school's membership here but in addition 40,000 tickets are allotted to each academy. These tickets are to be sold by the academies to their alumni and the proceeds will enrich the schools' athletic funds.

Forty thousand tickets will be offered the public in addition to the select box seats.

It is estimated that more than $300,- 000 will be needed to entertain the teams and the middies and cadets in Chicago. They will be brought here on special trains and assigned quarters in the city's most luxurious hotels.

Try To Stop Specs
Congressmen, who in past years have received several tickets each for the Army-Navy game, will be disappointed this fall. The committee in charge has announced that congressmen and their friends will not be permitted to buy any large amount of the much-sought postcards.

At least ten per cent of the tickets, it is already admitted, will fall into the hands of speculators and it is predicted that ordinary tickets calling for space in the far-flung sections will bring as high as $50 each on the day of the game.

To prevent ticket scalpers from operating to any great extent a careful check is to be made of the names of all individuals, making reservations for a large number of seats.

MORE TROUBLE FOR HEAVIES

Wills Barred for Foul; Sharkey Forgets To Post Forfeit

New York, Oct. 20.—Wills, recently defeated contender for the world's heavyweight championship, and Jack Sharkey, who defeated Wills and moved into his position as runner-up in the ranks of the big fellows, have run afoul of the New York Boxing Commission's discipline.

Wills was suspended for 30 days for using foul tactics in his fight with Sharkey and Sharkey by failing to appear before the commission yesterday to post a $2,500 forfeit of good faith in his challenge to Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, slipped a rung in the good-graces of his one-time fast friends, the commissioners.

Sharkey had issued his challenge via long distance telephone from Boston, but neglected to send on the money order for deposit. Neither did his manager, Johnnie Buckley, put in an appearance.

WOOSTER FEARS RESERVE TEAM

Powerful Poppers Expected To Be Trouble Maker
at Wooster

Wooster, Oct. 20.—"Poppers must be stopped" is being drilled into the Wooster football squad this week as the Wooster team prepares for the game with Western Reserve at Wooster Saturday. Poppers, Reserve halfback, carried the ball over 200 yards against Oberlin and he is the key to the Pops-eer attack.

Wooster's defense, tested when Ohio Wesleyan had the ball on the two yard line, found itself and hurled back the Methodist drive here last Saturday in the third quarter. Wooster was trailing 7 to 6 at the time and this stoic-wall defense turned the tide and Wooster could not be stopped in the final period. Seventeen points were scored to give Wooster a 23 to 7 victory before the homecoming crowd.

Wooster fears Reserve this week. In the Pioneers, Wooster expects to face the strongest and most versatile attack any team has had against the locals this season.

With Poppers carrying the ball or passing to big Bill West, Reserve has shown an offense which scored eighty points in the first two games and then made twenty-one first downs against Oberlin.

In addition to much drill on defense,
Wooster must show much improvement on the offense. In this department, Wooster's play has suffered in the last two games.

DECISION OF REFEREE STARTS NEW YORK RIOT

Low Hurley Disqualified
on Foul; Commission
Starts Investigation

New York, Oct. 20.—An investigation of the riot at the Pioneer Athletic Club last night in which a mob of fight fans attacked Referee Jimmy Crowley, was ordered today by the New York Boxing Commission.

The mob scene occurred after Crowley had disqualified Low Hurley on a foul in the third round of his bout with Sammy Dorfman.

Crowley was struck on the head by a chair hurled by one of the mob and a slight scalp wound inflicted. Police, with their nightsticks soon quelled the riot.

LOCAL BUILDING IS EXPECTED TO DEVELOP IN 1927

Rent Calls Increasing. Local Dealers Say: Allotments Work Progressing

Building in the city of Marion promises to continue on a normal basis until spring when it is expected to increase. Construction at the present time is being confined to residences, small buildings and repair work. Many new homes have been built in Marion during the last 12 months. Three or four months this summer the market was reported duller than usual, city and suburban property is in demand dealers say. Rent inquiries are receiving the most attention by local realty firms. With the increased number of rent calls for houses and other buildings, indications are that many of the vacant properties are being filled, especially the more desirable. Naturally with rent business increasing and properties growing scarcer as a result of families moving into residences from flats, apartments and from other cities, indications point to a time not far distant when Marion's surplus will be absorbed and building again on a substantial basis.

Contractors Busy

Builders are busy this month doing repair work and finishing houses already started. Only a small number of new homes are being started at present. However, realty transfers are increasing in number weekly and it is evident that many of the new residences are on the market.

Building permits were issued in larger numbers the last six weeks than they were the preceding period of time of similar length. However, a majority of the permits are for minor building and repair work.

Allotment Work Progressing
One big indication that building in Marion is to continue more briskly in the future 12 or 15 months is that lots in subdivisions are in demand by residents of this city who are planning to build their own homes.

One Knolls allotment, which has 100 lots adjoining Sawyer's sanitarium, southwest of the city, is being developed by the E. H. Cowan Realty Co. Sales are in charge of Lloyd M. Mathews who reported today that only a few lots remain to be disposed of.

The regular thing about the Oak Knolls allotment is that fact that many of the purchasers expect to build immediately.

MARION SHARES SLUMP IN STATE CONSTRUCTION

Permits Issued for Nine Months of This Year Total $170,524

A general decline in building activities throughout Ohio, in which Marion has been on about an even basis with other cities at its class, is indicated in a statement made public today by the Ohio Association of Builders Exchanges with headquarters in Akron. The report shows that building permits issued in a representative group of Ohio cities during September of this year covered a total valuation of $10,552,911, while the valuation for the same month in 1925 was $17,458,091, showing a decrease of almost a million dollars. The number of permits in September 1925 was 7,455 and this year it was 6,031.

Issues 33 Permits

In September of this year the Marion city clerk issued 33 permits for building work estimated to cost $10,724 and in September 1925 there were 77 permits for a total valuation of $40,495. Marion ranked third from the bottom of the list compiled by the state bureau for last month, the two registering below this city being Niles and Findlay.

Building permits issued during the first nine months of this year in Marion represent an estimated valuation of $170,524. Four places in the list are below this figure. They are Findlay with $147,700, Niles with $108,725, Steubenville with $142,470 and Zanesville with $91,012.

The summary covers a list of 36 cities, nearly all of which are ranked with Marion in point of population.

PARENTS SENT 5,500 SCHICK TEST BLANKS

Campaign To Prevent Diphtheria To Start in City Schools Next Week

Approximately 5,500 Schick test consent blanks were distributed to pupils of Marion's public and parochial schools, Tuesday, preparatory to administering diphtheria immunization treatment to all children whose parents sign the necessary requests. Return of the blanks is expected before the close of the week and they will then be turned over to Dr. W. J. Weiser, city health commissioner, who expects to begin the work of testing some time next week. He will be assisted by a physician from the State Department of Health.

This is the second year of Schick testing in the Marion schools, 2,700 children having received the treatment in 1925. Because of the fact that parents are more thoroughly informed on the subject now than they were a year ago and are generally convinced that the test and immunization treatment provide absolute protection against diphtheria, it is believed that consent blanks will be signed by many who refused to do so in 1925. Schick testing is in effect in a large majority of cities throughout the country and because its effectiveness has been absolutely established it is predicted that the treatment will be in universal use within the next few years.

Process of Test

The Schick test, the first step in the immunization treatment, consists merely of pricking the skin of the child's arm slightly and as a consequence requires only a moment for its completion. The test is officially registered and seven days later the child is brought in to ascertain the results. If a red spot shows where the test was made this indicates that the child is susceptible to diphtheria and should be given the immunization treatment. If the spot has faded out during the seven days the child is recognized as immune and no further treatment is necessary.

Immunization is also a simple and brief process, consisting of the injection of a small quantity of serum into the arm. There is no similarity between the effects of treatment and vaccination, Dr. Weiser states, in that no illness ever results, only a slight reaction being noticeable in occasional cases.
